

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

Belmont's Centennial Celebrations are in full swing, with exciting ways for the community to get involved all year. From our 100 Celebrations initiative, which encourages neighbors, friends, and families to host their own gatherings, to applying for a community-led event, such as a tour, block party, or history project, there are countless opportunities to connect and celebrate together. We also offer exclusive merch, our Centennial Stories Podcast, and sponsorship opportunities. However you choose to participate, there's a place for everyone in honoring Belmont's first 100 years. We extend our gratitude to all our sponsors, including Davey Tree Solutions, who are helping us bring these offerings to life!

Belmont's Updated Climate Action & Adaptation Plan is Coming This Summer

After months of community input, we are putting the finishing touches on our updated Climate Action & Adaptation Plan – a roadmap for reducing greenhouse gas emissions and building a more resilient Belmont for generations to come.

Your voice helped shape it. Residents have shared feedback through workshops, surveys, City Council meetings, and more, and those ideas are directly reflected in the draft.

We are currently refining the final measures and actions ahead of the full plan's release this summer.

Stay informed and be part of the conversation at www.belmont.gov/ClimateAction, where you can sign up to receive updates as the plan develops.
