This year's Recology Annual Art Poster Contest encouraged San Benito County students to creatively explore the theme "Race to Zero Waste." The contest received 218 submissions from talented young artists across the county. During the school year, 18 educational art workshops were hosted, 10 by Hollister Artisan Mercantille, and 8 by Recology and IWM, combining environmental education with hands-on artistic expression. Recology thanks all participating students, teachers, schools, and families and looks forward to growing the program in 2026–2027 as we continue working toward a cleaner, greener future.
